(8) That the minutes of the tonvention be revised and published.

The special order at this time was a discussion of "The Virginia Field," led by Mr. C. L. Ward, field secretary of the International Committee. A number of secretaries and others made brief reports of the work in the State and testified to the value of the State Committee and the absolute necessity of its presence.

The annual contribution to the State Executive Committee for the promotion of the work in the State was then made. The following sums were realized: Personal gubscriptions, $235.59; total, $1,561.59

Lively Discussion.

Lively Discussion.

Lively Discussion.

A long and rambling discussion sprang up over a proposed change in the constitution of the association. The effect of this amendment, which was offered at the session last year and deferred until the present meeting, is to make it optional with the State Executive Committies whether or not a State convention will be held each year. At the present time the constitution explicity provided for such an annual meeting. It was explained by Mr. Coulter, the State secretary, that contingencies might arise when it would not be advisable or possible to hold a State convention. Such was the tasse one year ago, when, at the last moment, it was discovered that there was smallpox in the convention town, and when it was too late to arrange for a new meeting place. Again, it might be advisable at times to hold, instead of the annual convention, several conferences of the different departments. There was, he explained, no disposition to destroy the State convention, which would probably be held nearly every year, but only swept over the world, converting oven German high crities and Hindu Brahmins.

All of this led up to an emphatic denial to the implication in the question first laid down by Mr. Mott.

"When a man tolls you that Christ is losing his hold over the thinking young men of the age; that the Hible ne longer appeals to them; that in this scientific age the best methods of modern thines cannot be used along with the Hible—when a man tells you the rely to him that it is nonsense. Nover has there been such a period as the last five years when there was such a spiritual awakening hi the university."

Throughout an address of remarkable force and entrestness, Mr. Mott showed the far-reaching offects of the great world organization of the students; the significance of it in winning to Christ the growing generations of lawyers, doctors, editors, engineers, business men and so on; the value of it to the State; the value of it in influencing young men to enter the university; how it struck at indifference and selfishness in colleges and in social life; how it was evangelizing the world; how it would press on and on, binding the hearts of all men in a great brotherhood of Christ, drawing together the denominations and uniting the very nations themselves.

Mr. Mott closed with a reference to the gift of $40,000 by Mrs. Dodge for a building at the University of Virginia, provided a maintenance fund of $20,000 is raised. Mr. Mott brought this news to Virginia, and he now spoke further of it. He said he had been back to New York since he made the announcement at the University and had told Mr. Cleveland since he made the announcement at the University and had told Mr. Cleveland Dodge, son of the denor, that the students and professors had expressed their appreciation by a gift of $8,000 to the maintenance fund. He said Mr. Dodge confered with his sister and then expressed a desire to furnish the new building bers, Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson, of Richmond, and Captain Morton, opposed it. There was quite a lively time for a while, but eventually, on a divided house, the amendment was adopted, along the one increasing the size of the State committee from twenty-one members to twenty-seven. The six new mombers were then, elected, as follows: R. E. Magill, of Richmond; S. W. Huff, of Richmond; S. W. Huff, of Richmond; J. Clinton Smoot, of Alexandria; R. W. Hillery, of Warrenton; T. P. Fishburne, of Roanoke; and W. G. Dudley, of Clifton Forge. Vacancies on the old board, which, under the changes in the constitution, was restored to office bodily, were filled by re-elections, as follows: R. M. Smith, C. E. Wellford, S. W. Travers, L. M. Williams and H. A. Gillis, all of Richmond, and W. E. Cottell, of Newport News, and W. W. Viear, of Norfolk.

Mr. Mott referred to the interesting fact that the University of Virginia was the first in the world to have a X. M. C. A. and that Mr. W. E. Dodge, husband of the donor, was the first to suggest and plan an intercollegiate organization of the Daning the afternoon the delegates were busy with conference work. Three most helpful meetings were held, and the effects of the earnest and practical discussions will probably be far-reaching.

A departmental conference, composed of the city, railroad, navy and county delegates, was held at 1 o'clock in the afternoon, at the Second Baptist Church, Lunch was served by the ladies of the Presbyterian and Baptist Churches. The programme contained the following:

"Association Membership Made a Factor in the Lives of Men Through Educational Work," by W. M. Wood, and "The Need of Leading the Membership to Assume Definite Rosponshillty," by C. S. Ward, field secretary of the Interna-Y. M. C. A.

"It means," says the speaker, "that

A college conference was held at Centerary Methodist Church and lunch was that those present might attend the night session.

After the guests were seated in the dining hall, Mr. J. Taylor Ellyson, as chairman of the invitation committee, gracefully requested Rev. Dr. W. W. Moore to ask a blessing. At the conclusion of the dinner Mr. Ellyson introduced Colonel John S. Harwood as toastmaster. Colonel Harwood expressed his gratification at being called upon to take part in so valuable h work as that done by the Y. M. C. A. In introducing the Hon. H. Kirke Porter, of Pittsburg, the first speaker, Colonel Harwood made a great hit by referring to him as a congressman from Pennsylvania, who, so far from being in a trust, was fighting as an independent manufacturer a big trust by himself.

To show our growth in commerce Mr. Porter pointed out the great growth in farming values and rail roads. "In the Oregon territory along." said Mr. Porter. there has been built a half a mile of railroad every day, Sunday included, for forty years!" "Amen!" said the Rev. Dr. John Hannon, in stentorian tones, amid laughter and applause.

At the conclusion of his speech Mr. Porter received a great round of applause, having strack a symputhetic note

A short, but strong and helpful address was delivered by Mr. W. M. Wood, superintendent of education of the Chicago Association. The subject discussed by Mr. Wood was "Agencies of Supervision." Mr. Wood made an earnest appeal for the State Committees and the International Committee. He wanted the associations and the members thereof to

THE WAR

West, North and South That Stuart's Dys-pepsia Tablets are Waging Against All Forms of Stomach Trouble, Can Only End One Way.

Dyspepsia Will Be Driven Off the Earth.

The great and effective work of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is no longer confined to America. Thoy are being used now all over the world, for their faine has spread throughout foreign countries and they cure dyspepsia in all lands and all climates just as well as they do at home. In fact, surroundings and conditions never interfers with the successful work of Stuart's Dyspepsia. Tablets, not even the conditions of the stomach itself. They go alread in their own natural way regardless of the stomach and digest the food that the bad stomach cannot digest, and permit that organ to do just as it pleases, rest up, take a vacation, get well or what-not. The stomach, however, always makes it a point to get well when it has nothing else to do. That's what stomachs always have done and will continue to do when they have the opportunity.

A prominent Detroit physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for all cases of stomach trouble. I have tried many prescriptions, including a number of my own, but find nothing that gives such interest relef as this remedy. They are a natural antipathy to patent medicines. I do not hesitate to prescribe and recontinued Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for rate. Dyspepsia Will Be Driven Off the Earth. The notable feature of the evening came next with an address by Mr. John R. Mott, general secretary of the World's Student Federation. Mr. Mott is a young man, clean shaven, tall and broad, and the best known Y. M. C. A. worker in the world. He is calm, clear, distinct in his speech, and keeps his audience quiet and still in careful attentior. His subject last night was "Le Students of the World United."

Mr. Mott spoke of the great movement he represents, a movement of vast and striking importance.

"Is Christs losing His hold over the thinking young men of the age?"

From this striking question the speaker advanced, He spoke of the work of organization among the students. He referred to the fact that to Virginia was due the honor of having produced the first college Y. M. C. A. This was fifty years ago, and it was not antil therety five years ago that the movement of gathering tozether the scattered college Y. M. C. A. organizations was begun. To day there are over 1600 such organizations, in about forty nations, with about 38,000 members. All over the world the work was going on, in Japan, in China, is India, in Australia, on the European in the British lies, in Canada, Mr. Mott look the great universities and spoke of then near hydrogen and they found the striken lates, in Canada, Mr. Mott look the great universities and spoke of the near hydrogen and the progress of the Y. I don't know as much about the nice distinctions in religion as I hope I do about the law, but it appears that both the rule of the church and the law of the land forbade polygamous practices, and you, as the head of the church, violated both."

True there was but little husiness to be transacted, it being Saturday, which in all well regulated government shops is at least a half holiday, but all the boys were back from the Republican State Convention at Norfolk, and while everything that had been done there, was already known by those who had read The Times-Dispatch, the returned delogates found much concerning the convention and their experiences to talk about. Some wore, of course, well satisfied with the way things went at Norfolk, most of them were, but there was here and there a discordant note. Assistant Postmaster Grubbs was well pleased with everything, especially the graphic report of the proceedings pub-lished in The Times-Dispatch. He did not hesitate to say that it was the fullest and fairest and most accurate account of a Republican convention he had ever seen published in a Virginia paper.
